

FIFTY-YARD RUN BY JOHN YOUNG BEATS INDIANS

Kendall Quarter Sprints Half Length of Field for Touchdown.
WON IN LAST FEW MINUTES OF PLAY
Haskell's Kick From Placement Their Only Count; Score 7 to 3.

(By FRANK L. MANGAN.)
JOHN Young, hero of Tulsa high school football battles for four years and for last two years carrying the waving banner of the orange and black spears through many hard-fought gridiron feasts, late yesterday afternoon reached the zenith of his football supremacy when he leaped high into a mark atmosphere and grasped the spheroid that had been loosed by the mighty Stover, raced fifty yards through a broken field and placed the oval behind the goal posts—winning the Thanksgiving football game for Henry Kendall college by a score of 7 to 3.

Young's remarkable run came as a fitting climax to his season's playing and also a deserving reward for him and his teammates of yesterday's contest.
There are those who say it was luck—and their claims in part are well founded. It was luck that the ball booted by Stover was skidding with soft, seeping, sliding mud, causing it to wobble through the air and fall at least a yard short of its usual kick—but it was not luck that John Young leaped after the elusive spheroid, tucked it away under his left arm and then dashed one of the two flustered tacklers between him and the goal and still—across the other—that was John Young at his best. It is merely a feat performed by him in other games of the past—but not in contests of such magnitude.
After he had speared the last of the redskin warriors and planted the ball behind the goal posts, 2,000 football fans went wild. Hats, canes, chairs, cushions, mingled in the air with the deafening cheers of the hundreds of joyous faces who the moment before were pleading and praying for just what had happened.

The Play Detailed.
Kendall won the toss and chose to receive, defending the north goal, a stiff breeze coming from the north.

THREE OF FAMILY DROWNED IN LAKE

Father, Mother and Daughter Break Through the Ice on a Wyoming Ranch.

CHEYENNE, Wyo., Nov. 25.—Alex McConell, aged 64, his wife and 9-year-old daughter were drowned in a lake near their ranch home last Sunday, according to a message from Cody, Wyo., today. The drowning was witnessed by three other children, aged 7, 4 and 2 years. None of the surviving children could give a coherent story of the accident, saying their mother and elder brother broke through the ice.
The 4-year-old child attempted to telephone to a neighbor but was unable to make himself understood. When recovered the bodies of Mr. and Mrs. McConell were clasped in each other's arms.

INDIAN DELEGATES TO CAPITAL

Chickasaw and Choctaw Nations Chose Men to Petition Congress.

Special to The World.
OKLAHOMA CITY, Nov. 25.—Dr. T. P. Howell of Davis and Walter Colbert of Ardmore have been selected to represent the Chickasaw and Choctaw Indians in Washington this winter in an effort for favorable tribal legislation. In a memorial adopted to be sent to congress it was asked that all purchasers of unallotted land be given the amount due them, upon the lands so the lands could be added to the tax rolls of the state. Governor D. H. Johnston of the Chickasaw, selected some time ago to accompany the delegation to Washington, will leave in a few days for that city and spend the winter in behalf of the Indians. At the meeting of the Treaty Rights Association Elmer R. Henshaw, now with the district agricultural school at Tahlequah, was endorsed for superintendent of Bloomfield academy at Ardmore, a school for Indian girls.

STATE PRISONERS FEASTED
MALESTER, Nov. 25.—Even the 1,200 convicts in the state penitentiary had some practical cause for thanksgiving today. They didn't have a turkey dinner but a menu of fresh fish and mashed potatoes, tomato catsup, milk gravy, pickles, peach pie, apples and oranges, coffee with real cream and bread and butter brought universal delight among them. A brief Thanksgiving service was conducted by the chaplain, A. B. Johnson.

ACCUSED CLERGYMAN IS DEFENDED BY FIANCE

MISS ELIZABETH E. VOSKUS

LEWISTON, Me., Nov. 25.—With interest in the cause now at its highest pitch throughout the state, all Maine is awaiting announcement of the action taken at a secret meeting of the stewards of the Little Methodist church in North Pownal, on the tendered resignation of the pastor, Rev. Milton Beckwith, whose recent arrest on a serious charge preferred against him by Mrs. Mabel Giddings, a divorcee of but three or four weeks, created a sensation throughout the state.
Meanwhile Miss Elizabeth E. Voskus, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. S. A. Voskus of North Pownal, the accused pastor's fiancée, who is reported as having declared her utmost faith in the clergyman's innocence, has suddenly dropped from view. Her parents explain that she is "attending school" in another part of the state, and that her absence "has nothing to do with the matter."
The sensation which the case has developed was stirred still further by the issuance of a remarkable statement from the office of Mrs. Giddings' attorney.
In this statement, which is purported to bear the Rev. Mr. Beckwith's own signature, the latter acknowledges himself responsible for Mrs. Giddings' condition.
After he had speared the last of the redskin warriors and planted the ball behind the goal posts, 2,000 football fans went wild. Hats, canes, chairs, cushions, mingled in the air with the deafening cheers of the hundreds of joyous faces who the moment before were pleading and praying for just what had happened.

URGE PRESIDENT TO BRING ABOUT PEACE

Message Forwarded by the Federation of Women's Clubs of Oklahoma Yesterday.

Special to The World.
OKLAHOMA CITY, Nov. 25.—"The Oklahoma Federation of Women's Clubs, representing seven thousand clubwomen of the state, ask and beseech you to use your good offices in the promulgation of an early peace between the warring nations of the old world."
Such a message was sent by Mrs. Tom Hope, president of the Oklahoma Federation of Women's Clubs, to President Wilson today.
This was at the request of Miss Jane Addams of Chicago, chairman of the national peace movement. Thanksgiving day had been set apart as the time for such an appeal to be made by the women of the country.

GERMANS ARE ANNOYED OVER GREECE'S MOVE

Cordial Relations With the Allies Have Been Established.

PROMISE INDEMNITY AFTER WAR IS OVER

Teuton Armies Now Are in Control of Practically All Serbia.

LONDON, Nov. 25.—(By AP.)—Cordial relations between Greece and the allied powers have been established with the Greek government's assurance that no attempt will be made to interfere with the allied troops should they under any contingency be forced to cross the Greek frontier, and that as heretofore railway and other facilities will be afforded them.
That the assurances and the guarantees are satisfactory to the allies is shown in the fact that Greek grain ships which had been held up at Malta have been allowed to proceed to their destinations, relieving what would have been a very serious shortage of bread supplies if their detention had been prolonged.
It is understood that the allies also have promised Greece a monetary indemnity after the war for any damage which might be done through the occupation of Greek territory.
With this theory question out of the way, the British public has centered its interest upon the attitude of Romania and the intervention of Russia. It is well established that Russia has concentrated a great many, near the Romanian frontier and dispatches state that a large number of heavy guns have arrived at Odessa from Japan for its use. However, the direction in which this army will move will be dictated by the policy the Romanian government adopts.

RELIGIOUS SERVICE

Football Game Attracted Many; Police Had Nothing to Do.

THANKSGIVING in Tulsa was well observed—probably more thoroughly observed than ever before. There were many more visitors than those who left the city to spend the day elsewhere, consequently the downtown streets from an early morning hour presented a true holiday aspect.
Occasional showers during the morning failed to dampen the ardor of those observing the occasion, for it kept down the attendance at the Thanksgiving union service at Convention hall. In the afternoon, with bright faces and well filled stomachs, the crowds found their way to Association park and witnessed the football game between the Haskell Indians and Kendall.

BOWLING ALLEYS RUN ON SUNDAY

"Close Up Sunday" Element Is Aiding Reform in Bartlesville; Ministers in Fight.

Special to The World.
BARTLESVILLE, Nov. 25.—Whether or not Bartlesville is to have Sunday bowling alleys, with Sunday theaters later on, is the big issue confronting the people here, and during the coming weeks the matter is to be threshed out. On one side are the ministers and a number of church people, while the opposition is composed of other leading citizens, who contend that the city should not only have Sunday bowling but allow the theaters to operate Sundays.
Mayor C. A. Lamm is to be appealed to, but the mayor has said that he will not order the bowling alleys closed, unless it is shown that it is a source of annoyance to persons living in the neighborhood. Two years ago, when the question of Sunday theaters was brought up, the ministers and many church people opposed the plan because the attendance at the churches was falling off. The Sunday opening plan was defeated and since that time Bartlesville has had no places of amusement open on Sundays. But the question is to be voted upon again and a bitter fight is certain.

SAD ACCIDENT TO A HUNTING PARTY

Collinsville Man May Lose Arm as a Result of Accidental Discharge of Gun.

Special to The World.
COLLINSVILLE, Okla., Nov. 25.—Palmer Cooper, aged 25, was accidentally shot and perhaps fatally injured here at 2 o'clock this afternoon. Two men and their wives were driving out of town for a hunt. Cooper and his wife occupied the back seat of the vehicle. They were still inside of town when the shotgun Cooper held was discharged and lodged a load of heavy shot under his right arm, practically severing it from his body.
The accident was perhaps due to some movement of a dog which sat at Cooper's feet in the car. Several local doctors were summoned and the wounds were dressed at once. The wounded man was sent to a Tulsa hospital on the afternoon train. He may die.

MISSING FOR TEN DAYS

Mrs. Hugh Perry Thought to Have Been Killed for Jewels.

DALLAS, Texas, Nov. 25.—The body of Mrs. Hugh Perry, wife of a well-to-do Dallas business man, was found today bearing marks of strangulation in a ravine a short distance outside of Oak Cliff, a city suburb.
Although Mrs. Perry disappeared November 15, the police and an undertaker said she had not been dead more than 18 hours. Her disappearance had been kept secret by the police, who have been searching for her, without finding any clues, for ten days. Her husband was said to be in San Antonio today searching in that city.
About 2 o'clock on the afternoon of November 15 Mrs. Perry had gone to her sister-in-law Mrs. Royal Smith, at a large department store here, saying she had an appointment for 2 o'clock. What this appointment was is not now known. Mrs. Perry was between 35 and 40 years old, prominently connected in Dallas and a church worker. She had no children.
Valuables Were Missing.
The body was fully clothed, even to a new turban, which it is said, Mrs. Perry had purchased the afternoon of her disappearance. There were no marks on a struggle about the clothing, but two handkerchiefs, apparently a man's handkerchiefs, were knotted tightly about her throat.
There was blood on the face, and a bruise apparently made by a blow above one ear. The wrists had faint marks which some of the officers took to be nail prints. Two negro boys hunting rabbits, found the body. The police said they had no doubt that Mrs. Perry's body was taken to the ravine after she had been killed. The place where she was found is within a block of some dwellings, whose inhabitants when questioned today said they had heard no suspicious sounds, nor had they noticed anyone in the last two days about the place where the body was found. Mrs. Perry's friends said some valuable diamonds she was wearing November 15 were missing from the body.
Mr. Perry is the secretary of an electrical goods company.

EX COP SHOTS UP NEGRO SETTLEMENT

Pulls Big "45" and Pumps Bullets and Fleeting Frightened Blacks.

Special to The World.
DUMMARTON, Okla., Nov. 25.—Sam Cook, a former policeman under ex-Chief Jordan, was arrested Tuesday evening on a charge of disturbing the peace and carrying concealed weapons. The charge was preferred against him by residents of "Little Athens."
According to the residents of the colored settlement, Cook came there about a p.m. and after patronizing one of the poolrooms, proceeded to make everybody hide out. It seems that he became enraged at some of the inhabitants and threatened to kill him unless he made a hasty retreat. While the colored man was making his way across a creek near the settlement Cook opened fire with a .45 Colt revolver, and after firing five shots at the fleeing negro, turned and began shooting into the village. The nervous residents thinking that Cook had reached a stage where he should be taken care of, called for the police. Cook was arrested and tried before Judge McLaurin, where he was taxed $25 and cost.

HEAVY FIGHTING NEAR DARDANELLES

Allied Aeroplanes Damage Railroads and Warships Bombard.

PARIS, Nov. 25.—(By AP.)—Heavy fighting has been in progress the last few days in Gallipoli, where the Turks undertook a strong offensive movement, but were repulsed by the combined fire of the British and French guns. Allied aeroplanes have bombarded the railway between Constantinople and Dedeagatch, damaging the bridges and warships have bombarded the coast of Asia Minor. The information is contained in the official communication issued tonight by the French war office, which also reports quiet on the western front. The statement follows:
There is no important occurrence (in the western theater) to report.

WOMAN WRITER WHO TOOK POISON WHILE IN COURT

MISS ANNESLEY KENNEDY

LONDON, Nov. 25.—Miss Annesley Kennedy, a journalist who after being non-suited in the law courts, took poison, is today in a dangerous condition in a hospital.
Miss Kennedy is a sister of the late Alexander Kennedy, former editor of the Daily Mirror, and daughter of the late Edward Vaughan Kennedy, 12, who spent his fortune and many years in the defense of Arthur Orton, the famous Tichborne claimant.
This is not Miss Kennedy's first dramatic attempt at suicide. In January, 1914, she drank poison in the Daily Mail office after an unsuccessful fight against the owner of the paper, Lord Northcliffe, for admission to the staff.
It was strongly hinted that she had had an intention of suicide but took the poison in an effort to win public sympathy in favor of her suit against Northcliffe. She before she had also threatened suicide.

TAX INCREASE WILL PROVIDE DEFENSE CASH

Secretary McAdoo Suggests New Plan Instead of a Bond Issue.

$93,000,000 WILL BE NEEDED IN 1917

Erroneous Reports Corrected in Report of Treasury Department.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—In-creases in internal taxation rather than issue of bonds to meet the first year's expenses of the administration's defense program are advocated by Secretary McAdoo of the treasury in a formal statement issued tonight giving an estimate of the federal government's revenues and expenditures up to the end of the fiscal year beginning next July.
Assuming that congress will continue to effect the present emergency tax law and customs duty on sugar, the secretary estimates that $112,896,394 in additional revenue will be needed for the expenditures for 1917, including $93,000,000 for new measures for national defense.
"This amount," says the statement, "may not be raised by internal taxation without appreciable hardship upon the American people."
Mr. McAdoo suggests a reduction in the income tax law exemption on single persons from $2,000 to $1,000 and on married persons from $4,000 to $2,000, changes in the several right-of-use changes above a certain figure, and new taxes on gasoline, alcohol and refined oils, horsepower of automobiles, other internal consumption taxes and various other things.
The statement follows:
In view of many inaccuracies and misleading statements which are being made either deliberately or ignorantly about the condition of the treasury and the finances of the government with respect to the current fiscal year and the fiscal year 1917, I feel that a true and accurate analysis of the situation may be of service to the public. The question of the national finances is so intimately related to other vital problems which must be solved in the interest of the American people that every right-minded citizen should want the truth in order that he may help form that intelligent public opinion out of which alone can arise sound and just conclusions. With this in mind I desire to submit to the public the following information:
"We began the fiscal year 1916 (July 1, 1915), with a general fund balance not including amounts to the credit of disbursing officers of $104,139,195. Compared with the balance shown in the daily treasury statement on June 30, 1915, this is composed of the following: Balance in general fund June 30, 1915, as per treasury daily statement, $52,025,718.
Bank Note Redemption.
Add the national bank note redemption fund, which by law is a part of the public debt and not to be set up as a liability of the general fund, $19,230,245. Add cash deposits during the year 1915 and included in the revised totals, advance of which were received at the treasury after June 30, 1915, $3,754,044. Balance in general fund June 30, 1915 (revised basis), $104,139,195.
"Under existing law the present duty of one cent per pound on raw sugar expires May 1, 1916, and the present emergency revenue law expires on December 31, 1915. Assuming that these two sources of revenue are eliminated, the following result:
